

Meet Emma

For me, I chose an apprenticeship because I had been to university for a few months. I didn't feel like it was the right thing for me and this came up and it was absolutely perfect, and I think I was immediately hooked.

My parents are very impressed that I have been able to achieve what I have in quite a short space of time. They look at my brother who is at university and how much money he is spending where as I earn a salary and I am getting my qualifications regardless of not going to University.
